The conference was held in early 2012, which was attended by more than 60 renowned scholars from the country and the world.

The audience was addressed by Dr. Rasim Muratovic, director of the Institute for Research of Crimes against Humanity and International Law, University of Sarajevo. The speech was also given by Ranko Covic, Deputy Mayor of the City of Sarajevo, while the promoters of the Collected papers were: Dr. Muhamed Filipovic, the member of Academy of Sciences and Arts of Bosnia and Herzegovina; Prof. Dr. Vladimir Premec; Dr. Mirko Pejanovic, corresponding member of Academy of Sciences and Arts of Bosnia and Herzegovina, and mr. Jakob Finci, President of the Jewish municipality in Bosnia and Herzegovina.
On Tuesday, 10 February 2015, there was a discussion forum titled Holocaust in Bosnia and Herzegovina, held in the Senate hall, University of Sarajevo.

The speakers were prof. Dr Ugo Vlaisavljevic, Vice-rector, University of Sarajevo; Dr Rasim Muratovic, the Director of the Institute for Research of Crimes Against Humanity and International Law of the University of Sarajevo; and Dr Elijas Tauber, Associate of the Institute for Research of Crimes Against Humanity and International Law.

University of Sarajevo commemorates each year the victims of Holocaust, both of Bosnia and Herzegovina and of the world.

The commemorative session of the Assembly of Sarajevo Canton, the City Council of Sarajevo and the municipal councils of municipalities of Canton Sarajevo was held at the National Theatre in Sarajevo on 5 February 2015. The session was held on the occasion of memory of all the victims of the barbaric siege.

On behalf of the Institute for Research of Crimes against Humanity and International Law, University of Sarajevo, the audience was addressed by Merisa Karovic-Babic M.A., who, among the others, spoke about the strategy and plans of the siege forces (SRK / VRS / VJ) and their endeavors to divide Sarajevo into two parts during four years; where they did not choose the means to achieve their objectives.

Apart from daily shelling, the inhabitants of the besieged city were deprived of water, gas, electricity, fuel and basic foodstuffs. “The killing of the whole family members, such as, for example, on 16 May 1992, in the ground floor room of their house, in the Velesici, six members of Bibic and Mekic family were killed; then, killing of newly born citizens of Sarajevo, incubators which were destroyed along with the bombing of maternity hospital Zehra Muidovic on 26-27 May 1992; massacre in the queue for bread in Vasa Miskin Street on May 27, 1992, are just a few examples which predicted the ways and methods of warfare during the siege of Sarajevo in the first few months.” Reminded Karovic-Babic and reflected on the role of UN forces in 1992-1995 as well as the lack of prosecution of those responsible for the killing of Sarajevo citizens.

The presentation also discussed the bombing out the city by the modified air bombs, known as a weapon of terror, by which the president of the self-proclaimed Republic of Srbska was threatening that the war can be completed in two months. She pointed out that the use of these bombs was especially prevalent after the command of General Dragomir Milosevic, which reads: Rocket bombs to have ready for action at the city..., (14 April 1995) This kind of weapon, as the Russian rightists Vladimir Zhirinovsky threatened, is not leaving anything alive... and... could save Slovene traits and help the Serbs to defend themselves against west terrorists. (Vladimir Zhirinovsky, 7 February 1994)

Particularly frequent targets of these bombs were urban parts of the city, such as the tall buildings in the part of Sarajevo called Alipasino polje, where, bombs were flying from the direction Doglodi on 28 June 1995 and killed three civilians and destroyed the Chamber of RTV BiH and other locations in the city.

Also, Karovic-Babic emphasized that the mass killings of civilians were committed at 230 locations, where at 93 of which were committed both killing of civilians and the whole families.

She concluded that the UN probe after these crimes well fit the political and military context, and their results corresponded to the current state of UNPROFOR forces on the field. Adoption of numerous resolutions of the Security Council of the UN, were only limited to a verbal condemnation of the crimes, while the expressions of deep concern and words of condemnation for the siege and ‘drowning’ of Sarajevo, along with highly skilled diplomatic language, were a way to avoid concrete actions such as lifting an embargo or military intervention. At the end of the presentation, Karovic-Babic concluded that many of the perpetrators were not prosecuted, which did not provide victims’ families the slightest satisfaction while that fact gives an amnesty to the planners, commanders, the perpetrators and their accomplices. After completing commemorative session, participants paid tribute to the victims and lay flowers at the Memorial at Markale.

RASIM MURATOVIC: DEDIJER WROTE A BOOK “GENOCIDE AGAINST MUSLIMS” USING ADS IN OSLOBODENJE

Dr. Rasim Muratovic, director of the Institute for Research of Crimes against Humanity and International Law of the Sarajevo University – full interview for Oslobodenje daily newspaper, 4th January 2015.

In a year behind us, Dr. Rasim Muratovic became the head of the Institute for Research of Crimes against Humanity and International Law of the Sarajevo University. What is his experience from the past few months? Does he regret coming to that position?

Experience with a lot of melancholy meditation over the “man’s destiny”, from which, sometimes, it emerges a certain dose of sarcasm and satire arising from wonder, first of all. However, if I go deeper in that, I see this is the result of decades of hard work. Edina, you know me very well. We studied together, at the time we were young, beautiful and smart … (laughs). You remember when you wrote 10 (A) in my student index before the exam, and after professor questioning me, he had no other option but to sign that grade. And that is who I am, whenever and whatever I do. And I really worked everything, from being a newsboy, window washer, book seller – to working at a prestigious Universities and Royal Military Academies. What I want to say: Hard and honest work pays off no matter how much it looks useless sometimes. Being hard and honest worker I came here, at the head of the important scientific institution. My function is the member of the Senate of the Sarajevo University. That is intellectual and scientific peak of our state. And that is what motivates me and gives me the strength, despite numerous of everyday problems which cause me headache.

Dr Smail Cekic was director of the Institute for two decades. What are his current relations to this institution?

Prof. Dr. Smail Cekic was director of the Institute for 22 years. At this time, he is employer of the Institute with 20% working time, and 80% working time employed at the Faculty of Political Science of the Sarajevo University. That was his wish. Two of us have known each other very well.

Bosnia is now incomparably better than before. What is the most valuable for you from what you found?

The most valuable thing is the existence of such an institution. We have negative experience from the Second World War, when we, for the sake of better future, kept quiet about the crimes committed against us. That was wrong and counterproductive. Existence of this Institute, work and the results of work is the hope that we will finally learn one very important, if not the most important of all lessons in our life.

You stated recently that the position of the Institute has never had better material resources? But does the statement that science in our state fell to the lowest branch deny your statement?

Yes. I have said that and that is not a mistake. That is the statement of our professors from April 1993, who said that Bosnia has never stood better! I keep with that statement when speaking about the Institute, and about the state. Employees of the Institute are full time employees, with regular salaries (as they are), with all the contributions including transportation, meals, equipment, offices, internet. Those who hold M.Sc. or Ph.D. title have endless possibilities to apply for grants, which can contribute to the overall position of the employees and the Institute. I argue that it is possible to live being the scientist, under the condition to work on topics that society need, and if you are committed to science as the athletes are committed to their sport. Hard Work! Hard Work! Hard Work! Every single day.

Does that mean that the Institute should enter the market and fight for its position?

Ability to work in the profession, knowledge of foreign languages, computer competence and similar things – that is the intention and the perspective, not coming back to self-management and economy with conspiracy. Meaning, going forward, and not going backwards. Those times have passed, and never coming back. Those who understand this, they have opportunity to survive on the labor market, and those who cannot understand this – they will remain at the bottom complaining about their position. What I want to say, environment does not need to understand me, but it needs to understand itself. I am aware of the fact that it is very hard to make money out of intelligence. It is much easier to try to buy the intelligence. But hard life changes by hard work, often with uncertain ending.

Everybody wants to live at the expense of the state

In your opinion, do the scientists also bear the blame for the current position of the science?

Scientists should understand that they are intelligence, and not the state. The state is the mechanism which needs to provide them help. Scientists build the state, and not vice versa. In sociology it is called Sociology from bottom up. It is obvious that there is a lack of knowledge and understanding what the science and the scientific work are. One cannot be a relevant scientist by researching the topics that society doesn’t need, without hard work, without knowing foreign languages and with IT illiteracy.

There are numerous organizations dealing with the research of crimes. What are the positives and negatives of that?

You noticed that very well. Dozens of associations, foundations, organizations, centers and I don’t know what else, want to live at the expense of the state, doing research of crimes. They have some private archives, and they think they can do it, and they know how to do it. It brings much more negatives than positives. That is the main issue in our field work. At every project we worked, we had at least two groups who hold some important research materials for us. It is important to have negotiation techniques in order to have result. We need strong state institutions in every field.
You support thesis that genocide was committed in every occupied area in Bosnia and Herzegovina?

Yes, and that is the standpoint of the science. Science is science, and law is profession. It is good when these two disciplines match, but it is not catastrophe when they don’t. Our goal is that justice and education institutions use our research materials. Our plan is to have all the victims named, from every municipality. One day, everybody will be able to find everything they need regarding crimes committed in specific place, not only from the recent war, but also from the WWII, and WWI, with just one click on the internet. That is the plan. That is the wish. And we will do it!

Did Institute already formed special department for research of crimes in Eastern Bosnia, 1941 – 1945, and 1992 – 1995?

Yes, and we will have first results very soon. Do you know how Vladimir Dedijer wrote a book “Genocide against Muslims” in 1990? He sent ads in Oslobodenje newspaper. Please, find that ad. I think that was in second half of August, 1989, probably August 20th very possible. He stated, roughly: “I ask all those who know something about the crimes committed in WWII, to send me whatever they have on the following address”. I am doing the same thing now, in 2015. I invite anyone who has to offer something regarding the crimes against humanity and international law, to send it the Institute, or to come at the Institute. Address of the Institute is Halida Nazecica 4, 71000 Sarajevo. Our e-mail address is info@institut-genocid.unsa.ba .

Revision of the indictment is not done

This year is 20 years of genocide in UN Safe Zone Srebrenica will be marked. What are the activities of the Institute on this occasion?

Last October we remind everybody included in this project to start with activities on time. We have started already, as everybody else did. We arrange with the holocaust centers all around the world to have commemoration on 11th July. Besides, we are preparing scientific conference, summer school, and what is the most important, to be present in Potocari on that day. I am inviting institutions and individuals to plan activities in order to be present in Potocari on this day.

At the same year, 20 years of Dayton Peace Agreement will be marked?

Those are two dates that are connected. I expect that law, as a profession holds the position about the Dayton Peace Agreement: Is it straitjacket, or necessary evil which we need to change? We should have used the Dayton Agreement in its full capacity long time ago until the better conditions for its change are being established. This, in my opinion, will take a long time. The only way out of this is to change Dayton Peace Agreement. That is my humble opinion.

Can we expect the revision of the indictment of Bosnia and Herzegovina vs. Serbia, or it was brought to an end?

For us (the Institute) it is not done yet. Bosnia and Herzegovina have the possibility, until the February 2017, to revise the claim against Serbia and Montenegro, which is the priority. We need experienced professionals who are willing and able to do this job.

Tell us more about the activities on the project “Oral B&History”, which was already recognized worldwide?

That is one out of many projects we started. We found inspiration for this project from Jews. This is very important for them. They named the testimonies of the survivals – oral history. Jews invest time and money to travel round the world and find survivals from the Auschwitz or some other concentration camp, to record the testimony. No other nation have similar will to collect testimonies about what they experienced from 1939 – 1945. They have organized, systematic and detailed approach to this topic, and they do it with great care and love for their nation and state. In that context, we need to be more like Jews, and less like Palestinians.
One of the books you wrote is “Holocaust against Jews, and Genocide against Bosniaks”. How do Jews sees that book?

They had positive reactions. Promotion of the first edition of the book was held on January 27th, 2007 at the premises of the Jewish community in Sarajevo, under the sponsorship of the Presidency of Bosnia and Herzegovina. That book is listed in the catalog Published by Oxford University Press in association with the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum. Besides that, dozens of publishers worldwide, including Tarmans Books, listed this book in catalog. This book can be found at the Yale University Library also.

Fra Ivan Sarcevic recently stated, for our newspaper, that he is afraid of how Bosniaks will respond to their victim status in next decades. How realistic his statements are?

In legal sense, when speaking about the crimes 1941 – 1945, and 1992 – 1995, Bosniaks are victims. In WWII, Bosniaks are victims with 103.00 or 9,1% victims, meaning right behind the Jews. During the aggression against Bosnia and Herzegovina during the last war, Bosniaks experienced the greatest victims. In every other sense, Bosniaks are not victims, they are winners. At the end, I want to personally testify that Bosnia and Herzegovina are never had better position than now. I am from Olovo, and I came to Sarajevo as a 14 years old boy, in 1971. I remember very well Sarajevo from that time, and I can see Sarajevo today. I never regret to give everything I can to Sarajevo and to Bosnia and Herzegovina. I don’t regret anything. Because Sarajevo and Bosnia and Herzegovina pays back everything you give. Today, I am fully realized man. I am married for 32 years; I have grown up kids, and grandkids who love me. I published 13 books until now (6 translations from Norwegian, and I am author of 7). The book “Holocaust against Jews and Genocide against Bosniaks” have two editions. I am author of 33 scientific essays published in Norwegian and Bosnian language. Two radio novels I wrote are published and aired, and I had three scientific research projects. I participated in ten international scientific conferences outside of Bosnia and Herzegovina, and 18 scientific conferences and round tables in Bosnia and Herzegovina, on the topic crimes against humanity and international law. I have reviewed 10 books, edited 4. I have promoted 22 books, and had 25 TV and radio interviews, and 16 interviews to print media. Besides, I held 19 lectures on genocide and holocaust worldwide, and worked in 9 organizational boards. At the end, I want to thank to Oslobodenje newspaper, because you remind me of my childhood in Olove, in 60’s, when I was buying Oslobodenje for my old neighbor every single morning. Hatida hanuma, my neighbor, was the owner of the Bosnian coffe shop near the train station. She was always very generous, giving me a little bit more money than the Oslobodenje cost. That was for an ice cream. In that sense, ice cream always reminds me of summer, on joy and optimism. It reminds me that we need to follow our dreams, not others dreams. One of the dreams I had is also this interview for Oslobodenje.
